NORTH BRIDGTON

Academy Teams to Open Season

Bridgton Academy will open its basketball season on Friday night at the Bangor Playhouse in Harrison, where the Academy will take the floor against the Strong Portland Boys' Club. This Portland team is one of the strongest in the history of the club and they have already taken over the Academy and they are sure to present plenty of opposition for the home lads. The prospects of the Academy boys are the brightest in years and although no games have been played as yet, many of the players got in excellent shape during the Christmas holidays by playing on club teams and in Alumni teams while home.

The Bridgton Academy relay team will get off on its 1930 season on this Saturday, when they travel to Boston and participate in the Y. M. C. A. games to be held at this time. The boys all got some preliminary training while home on their vacation and since the opening of school they have been putting in some hard work on the board track, the fact that this meet is coming so early in the year will handicap the local four but they are confident of putting up a good showing. The team will meet Northeastern Freshman in the first undertaking for the Bridgton team. The greatest number of students to enroll at Bridgton Academy at the beginning of the winter term, have just started upon the second term's work. Ten new students have been added to the past registration, this being made possible by the opening of another new dormitory last fall.

The hockey team, instead of opening with Bowdoin Second as scheduled, is to go to North Conway, where the team will line up against the Conway A. C., as it was necessary to postpone the Bowdoin game on account of ice conditions. The basketball squad received a great addition to the opening of the term, when Joseph Shea of Natick, Mass., enrolled for the rest of the year. He was a three letter man at Natick High school, where he captained the basketball five two years. Last year he was a three letter man at Dean Academy and also captain of the basketball team. He is a second baseman in baseball and an end at foot ball.

The Junior Five basketball team will open its schedule on Friday night at Denmark, with Denmark High school. The girls' basketball team opened its schedule of ten games, Saturday, last, when they played Paris High on the latter's courts.

Wendell "Red" Perriago, catcher on last year's championship baseball team, was operated upon for appendicitis at the McCreesh hospital a few days ago. He is making good recovery, but probably will be out of school for at least a month.

Mrs. John Woodis and Mrs. Nellie Morrell went to Waterville one day last week to visit Mrs. Woodis' mother, Mrs. Bion Pike.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Briggs' young son, Melvin, of Harrison, has been very ill and under the care of a nurse. Mrs. Briggs was formerly Miss Mildred Ward of this town.

Mrs. Irving Ridlon has been to Fryeburg to see her father, who is sick. Geo. Crockett has been in town, recently, visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Crockett.

Herbert Dadman and Will Day were recent callers at Frank Grover's at Oxford.

Simon Grover has a radio.

Gloria Day enjoyed a pleasant evening last week at Lubelle Darling's, listening to the radio, first time for this winter. Mrs. Day has been out for this winter her over with the team as she is confined to the house on account of her foot.

Edgar Grover visited her sister, Mrs. Erna Culbert, a few days at Bridgton Center.

Clarence Kimball was in Bridgton last week.

Frank Shackley still remains about the same and is still at the hospital in Lewiston.

A very pleasant evening was passed last Saturday night at Mrs. Will Day's. A gathering of young people came in and took and danced and sixty-three were the games well enjoyed.

Edward Webber went to Bridgton, Saturday.

Mrs. Fred Zapolski spent the day with Mrs. Frank Stokes, recently.

Everett Brackett shipped a nice veal calf to Boston last week.

Mrs. Cora Upton spent the afternoon with Mrs. Annie Stokes, recently.

Mrs. G. B. Mills is spending the winter with her sister in Lewiston.

Funeral Services Held for B. D. Knight—Page on Jury—Callers at Plummer's.

Benjamin D. Knight died at the home of Charles A. Saunders in this town, Jan. 16, where he has been staying for the past eight weeks. He was given the best of care by Mr. and Mrs. Saunders, although he was a great sufferer, he never complained. He was born in Sweden, Apr. 28, 1860. He leaves one own brother, Frank Knight of Alfred, and two half brothers, Elden Stevens of Fryeburg and Virgil Stevens of East Stoneham. Funeral services were held on Sunday, conducted by Rev. Clifford V. Cross of Lovell. Interment was in the Haskell cemetery.

Percy Grover and wife visited at E. S. Plummer's, Sunday, Jan. 19th.

Walter Stover was sick at the home of E. S. Plummer last week. A doctor from Lovell was called to attend him. He is better and out around now.

Work doesn't seem to progress very rapidly at the mill on the Flint lot.

Two new families have moved into the Town House, Jan. 14th. Harold W. Page was drawn juror for the February term of court.

Scott Wentworth has his mill located on the George Hill lot and is now running on full time.

Mrs. Frank C. Ridlon has four of the mill crew for boarders.

Mrs. Mary Kneeland has been ill and had a doctor from Waterville. She is some better now.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ridlon, who have bought the Will Marr farm and moved here this fall, seem to be getting along pretty good. He has four nice looking cows and a dozen hens that are laying from six to a dozen eggs each day.

Mrs. Ridlon makes butter and sells some milk. She keeps busy with her brooders. Frank is working at the mill sticking boards.

We are glad to see the houses filling up again with such families as they are.

Clayton Pike has installed a Crosley radio for the Ridlons.

Haskell school closes this week for a long vacation.

DISTURBED SLEEP

Is Nature's Danger Signal

Anna F. Dearborn, Pittsfield, N. H., says, "I will tell or write my complete experience with Lithiated Eucaly (Kaler Formula). Flow I was afflicted with bladder weakness for 40 years disturbing me 6 to 10 times each night." It acts on bladder as epson salts do on bowels. Drives out foreign deposits and lessens excessive acidity. This relieves the irritation that causes getting up nights. The tablets cost 2c each at all drug stores, Keller Laboratory, Mechanicburg, Ohio, or locally at L. V. Ashton's, Druggist.

The Last Leaf

When the writer was at Mount Vernon in the autumn of 1889, the only tree or shrub planted by the Great George's own hand, was a magnolia tree that was dead, but I was fortunate enough to secure the last leaf it had put forth during the summer, which is preserved among the family treasures. The caretaker of the place, a negro, descendant of one of Washington's servants, expressed great sorrow at the decay of the only thing which had been growing in the garden in the memory of his Country and planted. For this reason he had tenderly cared for it for many years, but he could not save it from decay.

The weeping willows in the run below the sacred resting place of the Immortal Being revered by the people of the whole earth looked thrifty and likely to remain so for many years. The original sprouts of these willow trees were obtained from Napoleon's first place of burial at Saint Helena and brought to this country by General Lafayette on his visit here in 1825. Capt. James M. Germond of the Confederate Army, who was then the engineer on the boat plying between the city of Washington and Mount Vernon, with whom I became acquainted during the trip—a few years ago by the way—sent me the next Spring some shoots from those willows, but alas, they perished long ago.

Oliver Wendell Holmes before the Civil War, having frequently met a relative of the Revolution—a decrepit old soldier, tottering about with his cane, wrote a poem about him, entitled "The Last Leaf." This poem was admitted by Edgar Allan Poe and Abraham Lincoln—the latter liking it so much that he committed it to memory and is said to have once repeated it to Governor Andrew of Massachusetts.

Happening the other day to see this poem in a volume in our old book room, the writer was reminded of the magnolia leaf from the old Washington tree and that he himself was the last leaf of his parents' family. It seemed fitting therefore to tell the story of the last leaf of the magnolia tree and reproduce a few stanzas of this poem.

"The Last Leaf"
 I saw him times before,
 As he passed by my door;
 And again,
 The pavement stones resound,
 As his totters over the ground.
 With his cane,
 They say that in his prime,
 Ere the pruning knife's Time
 Cut him down:
 Not a better man was found
 By the mailman on his rounds
 Through the town.
 But now he walks the street
 And he looks by all he meets
 Sad and worn.
 And he shakes his feeble head,
 And it seems as if he said,
 And now his nose is thin,
 And his chin is like a chin
 Like a staff:
 And a crook is in his back,
 And a melancholy croak
 In his laugh.
 And if I should live to be,
 The last leaf upon the tree
 In the Spring:
 Let them smile as I do now,
 At the old forlorn laugh,
 Where I cling.
 I'll add to the last stanza the following:
 As I'm fond of leaves a last,
 I look back upon the past,
 And forward without a fear,
 To the time when I'm not here,
 And life is spent.
 —G. F. WHITMAN.

HIGH PLACES

All of us need them. We need high places to relieve us of the monotony of the daily plain. We need high places from which to look; they furnish perspective. We need high places to give us fresh oxygen.

Let us think for a moment of the first: to relieve the monotony of the daily plain. That is what our lives must degenerate into if we are careful; flat, uneventful plains. We rise, bathe, eat, work, lunch, talk, work, dine, sleep, rise, bathe, eat, work, etc., day after day. Now and then there is a rise over which we travel, but for the most part unless we take thought, our daily lives creep on from sun to sun, unmarked by any stirring difference.

Now, there are ways of rising into high places. Many I point out to you. Sunday may become for us a high place, a mesa, as it were, to which we lift our souls to air them for a time. A mesa is a plateau that projects itself above the surrounding desert. Sunday may be just that for us. It may be a mesa to which we climb and let the fresh air of God blow through our souls.

It may be; but to how many is Sunday only a day much like the other days of the week? No church claims allegiance in the early hours or at any other time. I walk toward the church on Sunday mornings, I see men and women going from news stands with their day's reading under their arms. Some take Sunday to sleep off late Friday and Saturday evening affairs. They sit, bathe, eat, talk, dine, eat, sleep—and go straight into another day of similar activities.

No wonder so many of these tire of life so soon! No wonder the darkness of futility so quickly enshrouds them! No zest that comes from rising and giving their energies to worship, something different from the run of the week. No outgoing of their thoughts to others. No driving out of their horizons to wider human sympathies, which give richness to life. No messes lifted up above the accustomed round. They tread on Sunday very largely by the monotonous routine which they trod all week.

"He will make me to walk on my high places." Those were the words of Habakkuk. He will. Worship will do this for us, if we give ourselves to it with the right spirit.

Why not, at the beginning of this New Year, shake off dull sloth and rise to high places where we may see and feel the wind of God's spirit blowing through our hearts?

EAST SUMNER

Charlie Russell and C. C. Russell called, Thursday, Jan. 16, on N. B. Burgess, who is poorly this winter.

Most of the sick ones about the neighborhood are better.

Dyer helped saw Lynn Farrar's wood, Friday, this winter.

Mrs. Mary Russell is gaining from her cold.

The writer was pleased to read what Hammond had to say about Mr. Bartlett's crust which has covered the many compliments Mr. Bartlett gets on his ability to write. They even come from noted writers and all give Mr. Bartlett a very cheerful feeling.

Snow, more snow, but no sure anyone hopes this soft snow, which fell January 18, at a great rate of speed from daylight till dark will not be covered by the crust which has covered nearly, if not every snow, this winter. The partridge will be glad if any have survived, the crust thus far, no doubt the bird will come more scarce for the coming years than ever before by having the habit of flying down into the new fallen snow for both protection from their enemies of the woods and for warmth.

We're crust and ice have been very beautiful to the eye, the birds and animals of the woods have probably not seen it from any such view when our birds have had to go without their meals, their food being covered with the crust and ice and the animals having to travel without doubt, did not enjoy it at all. This sure has been a winter when our birds must enjoy being fed by their human friends, who are able to find the birds to feed, there are so few this winter. They may be using the partridge's habits also.

Callers at Charlie Russell's, Sunday, were Mrs. Patrick Nyman, also Wesley Poland, who came on snow shoes.

"To dash along the road blithely as youth are wont to do—talking and paying little attention to the highway is not the thing. The most dangerous combination on earth is a roadster, a boy, a girl and a kissing bee. Every couple found hugging in an automobile in motion should be brought to court and fined. Every girl who cannot ride comfortably unless she has her head on the driver's shoulder and her feet in his lap, should be fined twice."

"State Police will do well to say nothing and make arrests for careless driving—taking these impatient evidences of flaming youth as prima facie evidence. We would not give the case away; for the newspapers will make too many funny cracks about it—just careless driving; they will know. About $10 and costs—send for papa. Motto—watch the road and not the girl."

"Forty-five miles an hour is not speed-madness when a careless woman is at the wheel. It is dangerous when carelessness and inattention to the road are at the wheel."

—A. G. Staples.

THE RADIO AGE

In this age of radio, when everybody and his family are ardent radio fans, where may we ask, is Fryeburg? Why is not this bustling burg represented on the air? Fryeburg, which is acknowledged to be the finest and most beautiful town in the State, has no radio station, and could add FOREMOST without being deemed boastful.

The location is superb. The station would be on Pine Hill, or perhaps the towers of the ponderous Fliver building would serve better for the purpose. We would gladly co-operate in any way to bring this about, even as far as to help the prime-time and down the time-stairs, until an elevator could be installed. And what could be more charming than a restful studio, commanding a view of the beautiful valleys through which Corn Shop Brook meanders tranquilly past the broad Rice Hotel estate; or over-looking the balsam-scented area of the Conway Box Co. At evening time, the odor of golden bantam, freshly plucked, would mingle with this pleasing and pungent aroma.

But neither town pride, or an admirable location, are the main reasons that we are sponsoring this worthy project. Our object is far greater. It is the talent that lies buried, submerged as it were, within the limits of our beloved township of ours; or within the confines of Greater Fryeburg, which includes East Fryeburg, Monotony, Nebraska, and Nigger Corner, and embraces parts of Bag End, Mud City, and Stow. From the verges of unutilized stars, we would choose "Judge" Mason as announcer. Besides introducing the artists and presiding over the microphone in his inimitable manner, he could give a delightful commentary as a speaker, discussing topics of the day, ranging from parlor horse shoes to presidential possibilities or impossibilities as the case might be, and quote facts and figures to back up statement or carry a point.

Gay Whitney could forecast the weather; "Hot ain't it," and Frank Mark would be the one chosen to give a detailed report of the stock market, entitled, "Wails from Wall St.," I meant to say, Wall St.

The Mud City Band would render selections bi-weekly. The main reason for this band was instituted prior to Prior's. The Brownfield (Alet Band) would also be invited to help enliven the program. They've tried hard to enliven Brownfield, but of course there ARE impossible tasks.

W. "Birdy" Barnes might be induced to narrate a few episodes of his adventurous career, with his six guns, in the wild and woolly west. Possibly we shall decide not to put on these thrilling tales, as the excitement created might prove fatal to some spell-bound members of the invisible audience, who did not possess strong heart and nerves.

"Lew" Tharforth could come up from Brownfield to do his monologue; or he could talk into the "mike" from there, as the wind was right. We don't know much about Lew Tharforth, but we would guarantee that California could pluck "Lew" out of the air with a crystal set. Of course we would want to put on the April Follies from Abbott's smutty.

They should at least have the right pitch. They are busy practicing "pitch" every day now. Arch Hurd could capably conduct the studio orchestra, although the audience would have to wait until the advent of television to enjoy his gymnastics.

Clayt Wentworth would discuss the trade situation. The subject of his discourse would be: "How'll you shift 'em?" Clayt's talks should be timely as he is well versed in trade matters. Shrewd as they make 'em. Enough so that he wouldn't even swap yarns with a body unless he got 'boot'.

"Zard" Ela would contribute the bedtime story. "The way that he can put a yarn across is unbelievable."

"Boner" Ridlon, of Rice Hotel, would entertain with his fiddle, if the proper inducements were offered. He may lack some of the fluency of "Ford's fiddle," but his foot action is much better.

P. Jones could be depended upon to provide the listeners with a good laugh. Temperance would be discussed pro and con (prohibition and corn whiskey) by our leading Granger, Wm. Whitaker.

Languages would be the topic of Carl Johnson, recent graduate of our Academy, who could broadcast a learned discourse in log-Latin.

Altogether a very pleasing programme could be arranged, which undoubtedly would be enthusiastically received all over this country of ours and even in Lovell and other foreign lands, by an attentive and appreciative audience. Those fans who had been suffering and on the verge of deserting would be re-herald and the praises of Fryeburg sung forever.

In order to further this project; to break the ice, as it were, and to have a broadcasting station for Fryeburg, we have decided that the Fryeburg Editor shall be a committee of one, to receive contributions. Mail checks direct to him. Cash, money orders or even stamps will be accepted. These funds will be expended very judiciously. Of course we will need a new car, a Hummobile will answer the purpose, to be used by the committee for entertainment purposes. Perhaps a new suit of clothes or so may be purchased to lend a dignified appearance to the committee, and a few boxes of cigars might be needed for the committee to pass around. Aside from these trivial incidental expenditures, we assure you that the studio will be equipped and regally furnished, as soon as we have the necessary assets.

Ode to the Plow, and How? When we've cleared a new path, Boy, it fills us with wrath, When along comes a plow And fills it, and how! But we're wretched still, When we work with a will, Just done shovelling when The plow fills it again.

Loony Lim's ricks A man, with a look like a boogey, Bought a ton of grapes, said to be Tokay. Says he, with a wink, "They'll make me fat, I don't think, But what they do make will be O' Quet. There was a fair princess named Hannah, Who slipped on a piece of banana. Cried a youth, 'What a pip! Did you see princess slip! And he stared in a very queer manna. —O. R. MILLS.

Guphill has begun logging for D. A. Bradley. Frank Pray and Shirley Benson are cutting the timber. Elnor Charles was a visitor at John Gray's, Sunday.

Several of the ladies here attended the Farm Bureau meeting at Elmer Baker's, Wednesday.

R. E. Moulton is cutting wood for Ray H. Kneeland on Mr. Kneeland's "Ben-nett lot" in this neighborhood. Benjamin D. Knight, who died at C. A. Saunders', Jan. 16th, was brought here to his old boyhood home for interment in the Haskell cemetery, where his father, John Knight and two brothers, John and James, were buried.

Ray Kneeland with crew have finished putting in ice at Camp Katahdin for Jeffers & Day of Rhode Island. Mr. Kneeland also has his own ice house filled. Millard Adams was here at the mill after lumber, recently, and says he is going to build a dwelling house.

Some of us might find happiness if we would quit struggling so desperately for it.

LOVELL

The Young Ladies' Bridge Club met at Mrs. Mary Watson's home on Friday, where they were entertained by Mrs. Watson and Miss Helena McAllister. There were only two tables. The prizes were won by Mrs. Beatrice Severance and Mrs. Doris Stearns, after which refreshments were served of ham, sandwiches, coffee, cake and ice cream.

Saco Valley United Parish

Ministering to Lovell, Fryeburg Harbor, North, Center and W. Fryeburg, Stow, Toll Bridge and Union Hill. Staff: Rev. Clifford Cross, Lovell, Rev. Walter Pavy, Fryeburg Harbor.

In spite of the rain, there was almost a record attendance at the Union Hill Church Night, on Tuesday. We expect more will be out this week. Wednesdays will be given to Union Hill in future, instead of Tuesday, on account of Kwanzaa meeting that night. Also, the Stow Church Night has been changed to Thursday so as not to conflict with the Wednesday Bible Study group at the Harbor.

A splendid set of colored slides on "Malaysia" and an illustrated hymn, "At Even 'Ere the Sun Was Set" have come from Boston and will be shown at all points in the parish.

At an executive meeting the date of the Parish Winter Carnival was definitely set for Saturday, March 1st, and not Washington's birthday, as this day had already been chosen by Fryeburg Harbor United Parish. Arrangements are in the hands of the following committees: Sports, George Coe, Convener; Grand Concert, Langdon Andrews, Convener; Meals, Mrs. C. V. Coe, Convener; Publicity, Mrs. Edith Charles, Convener.

The Harbor Ladies' Aid held an all day session on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Wesley Emery, Miss Hazel Emery being the president for the month of January. A supper and entertainment is to be given on Friday, January 31st.

If transportation can be arranged, an evangelistic league of the Harbor United Parish will visit the parish next week end. There will be a social evening for all the parish at the Harbor vestry on Saturday, and students will speak at all the service over this country of ours and even in Lovell and other foreign lands, by an attentive and appreciative audience.

Those fans who had been suffering and on the verge of deserting would be re-herald and the praises of Fryeburg sung forever.

The Lovell Pioneers were booked to play the Conway County Boys' Basketball team on Saturday. Because of the snowstorm, the phone was kept busy all day debating the possibility of making the trip, and finally it was decided to postpone the game until Monday.

The next meeting of the Parish Council is to be held on Wednesday, February 26, instead of the first Wednesday of March. The change has been made so that the Rev. Cymrild Hughes, M. E. District Superintendent can be present. He will conduct the Fourth Quarterly Conference of the Harbor Methodist Church the same day.

The North Fryeburg Pioneers elected their officers for 1930 at last Friday's meeting as follows: Chief Ranger, Byron Bemis; Deputy Ranger, Will Quincy; Recorder, Tom Hutchins; Treasurer, Hubby Quincy.

The question whether modern improvements had helped or hindered the worship of God was discussed at the Harbor Epworth League on Friday. A business session followed the study period, and the evening wound up with ping-pong, checkers and other games.

THE UNCONSCIOUS ARSONIST

Some millions of Americans are unconscious arsonists. This is a startling statement, and any one of the millions would deny it. Yet it is true. None of them purposely set fires. But all of them, through ignorance or carelessness, unconsciously start fires.

The difference between the man who consciously fires a house, and the man who allows wiring to go unattended, throws oil soaked rags in corners or drops his matches and cigarettes wherever he happens to finish them, is one of law and motive, not of effect.

We are, with increasing success, fighting the active arsonist, and when he is caught, he is imprisoned for long terms. The unconscious arsonist is beyond the law and destroys more lives and property than the deliberate arsonist.

Every fire hazard impairs the entire community. A fire starting in a disused garage may destroy a million dollar factory. Are you an unconscious arsonist?

Rumford witnessed another fire Sunday morning at 12:05 which called out the whole fire department for a fire in the J. Patneaud block at River and Exchange Streets. It is estimated the loss is around $10,000.

Don't Neglect a Cough

A neglected cough can lead to a lot of trouble. But if you use Adamson's Balsam the first thing there's no danger.

The first dose relaxes strained throat muscles, breaks up, and expels phlegm and heals irritated membrane. That stops the coughing. Other ingredients, acting through the blood, attack the germs at the source of trouble in a day or two and all danger is gone. Adamson's Balsam contains no dope or anything harmful. 50c and $1. At all drug stores. A safe, pleasant, thorough sore throat medicine for children. Get a bottle today.

COLBY COLLEGE NEWS

Miss Nellie Elizabeth Pottle, a graduate of Colby in the class of 1925, and a resident of Oxford, recently announced her engagement to John Erskine Hankins of Lake View, S. C. While at Colby, Miss Pottle was a member of the Chi Omega sorority. Since her graduation, she has received a Master's degree from Yale University and been engaged in the teaching of English at the University of New Hampshire.

The Colby Concert Series began Tuesday with a piano recital by Ruth Webb. The concert, which was given in the new Alumnae building, was well attended, both by Colby students and citizens of Waterville. It was Miss Webb's second appearance in Waterville.

Extensive alterations have been made to the Colby Library. The remodeling was necessitated by the lack of space for the books, which have been rapidly increasing in number.

The twenty-first annual Lyford Inter-scholastic Speaking Contest will be held under the auspices of Colby College, May 2, 1930. The contest is open to preparatory school students of Maine, Massachusetts and New Hampshire, the only restriction being that no school shall enter more than two speakers. One hundred dollars will be awarded in prizes. Students enrolled in the contest will be entertained while in Waterville at the expense of the college. Applications for entrance in the contest must be filed in the department of Public Speaking of Colby College on April 2, at the latest.

Colby College has granted Professor Lester F. Weeks of the chemistry department a semester leave of absence for research work. Professor Weeks intends to do research work in organic chemistry at the University of Cambridge, England.

Miss Barbara Valentine Works, Colby, '32, of Dixfield, is a member of the new romance language society that was recently formed at Colby.

An experiment, conducted with the purpose of ascertaining the effect of additional freedom on superior students will be held at Colby next semester. They will be allowed to work independently of all the faculty except the dean and their advisor.

That they may have a little peace, even the best dogs are compelled to snarl occasionally.
